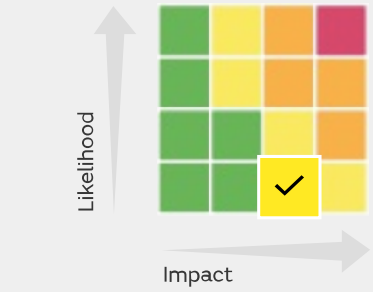
Heavy thundery downpours in places

What to expect

- There is a small chance that homes and businesses could be flooded quickly, with damage to some buildings from floodwater, lightning strikes, hail or strong winds
- There is a small chance of fast flowing or deep floodwater causing danger to life
- Spray and flooding could lead to difficult driving conditions and some road closures

Further details

Heavy showers and thunderstorms are expected to develop by late morning on Sunday, mainly across inland parts of western Scotland. Some of the storms could be severe, and with generally light winds, will be slow-moving. Whilst some areas may escape with a dry day, where storms do develop, torrential downpours are possible. There is the potential for 20-30 mm of rain to fall in an hour, and as much as 40-70 mm in 2-3 hours. As well as heavy rain, frequent lightning and large hail are also possible.



Very low likelihood of medium impacts
